“ With their 2016 debut album, trio de lucs add a fresh and distinctive sound of profound quality to the European jazz market.

I can highly recommend listening to LUX, which should give us new hope for the future of European jazz:

groovy, mature, skillful and surprising. This trio is a band which has really grown their own sound, it is a trio of friends who know and feel each other, and you can tell from every moment on the recording that they give their all for the music.

Hats off - Luke, Luc & Lukas! ”
